Sussex Wire specializes in the design and manufacture of custom, cold-formed and cold-headed parts in mini- and micro-geometries to complex and precise tolerances. Mechanical design and assembly firms turn to Sussex Wire for their most advance near-net-shape part requirements to eliminate material scrap, increase mechanical strength and reduce costly secondary and assembly operations. Headquartered in Eastern Pennsylvania, Sussex is one of the leading cold heading manufacturers globally for precision miniature and micro metal components and cold-headed parts.
